POLK'S
Astoria and Clatsop County Directory 1913

Astoria and Clatsop County

A hasty glance at the map will suffice to point out to the observer the important harbors along the Pacific coast line from Lower California to Alaska. In that great distance these havens of the seafarer are few and of corresponding great importance. Among this number the harbor at the mouth of the Columbia River has already assumed a leading position in the shipping world and is destined to take an even more important one. The city so fortunately situated on this fresh water harbor is Astoria, with a population of approximately 15,000 people.

SITE OF ASTORIA.

Astoria is built along the south bank of the Columbia River, ten miles from the Pacific Ocean. The main business portion of the city, the mills and canneries occupy the low ground close to the river and in easy access to the docks and railroad terminals. The residence section is built on the hills to the south and from any point there stretches before the eye a beautiful panorama of river and ocean, valley and mountain, farm and mill, ocean vessel and overland train. There are many fine modern residences with well kept lawns and the ornamental shrubbery and flowers of the Oregon country, the rose and sweet pea, Oregon grape and holly tree.

PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS.

There are paved and macadamized streets which have been laid out with a view to parking. There is an excellent gravity water system, owned and operated by the public and supplying the city with an abundance of pure water; also electric lights and street railways. Among the modern public buildings are the Clatsop County Court House, City Hall, Elks Building and a high school costing $75,000. The city also maintains a public park, which contains a reproduction of old Fort Astoria and a stadium built in a natural amphitheater in the hills.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

There are in the city four banks of sound financial standing. The mercantile houses of the various lines of business carry full and complete stocks of goods and some of them employ large forces of clerks and salesmen. Their trade is large and is not confined to Astoria alone but extends to the towns and villages along the Columbia River and out into the county. There are four newspapers published, two of them in the Finnish language. The city has first class hotels and restaurants to accommodate the traveling public. A new and modern hostelry that is the equal of any in the state ouside of Portland, was but lately completed and occupied.

LUMBER.

One sixth of the standing timber of the world is in Oregon and of this vast amount one-sixth is in Clatsop County. The natural advantages to be found at Astoria for manufacturing and marketing this important resource are unexcelled. A down grade haul for logs facilitates their handling at the mills. By reason of the many miles of harbor frontage on the Columbia River and Young's Bay the log booms can be handled to the best possible advantage. A most important feature to be considered in the lumber industry is that of transportation. And in that respect Astoria is most fortunate. Steam railroads down the bank of the Columbia enable the products of the Astoria mills to be marketed in all the great trade centers of America. And ocean going vessels calling at this great port carry her lumber and mill products to all countries on the globe. Already employment is given to thousands of men in the logging camps and saw mills. The pay roll in this industry in Astoria and tributary country totals hundreds of thousands of dollars monthly.

FISHERIES.

Astoria is the headquarters of the fishing industry in Oregon and it is here that the famous Oregon salmon is prepared for the tables of the world. Canneries in Alaska are also operated from this point. In the neighborhood of $5,000,000 yearly is handled through Astoria banks in the process involved in handling the fish until shipped out to the world's markets. On the Oregon side of the Columbia River the average salmon catch is from 30,000,000 to 40,000,000 pounds yearly. From 5000 to 6000 men and 3000 boats are employed in this industry and dozens of canneries are operated. Chinook salmon is the first in quality and the run commences about the 1st of April and lasts until September 30th.

DAIRYING.

The country about Astoria is finely adapted to dairying. The valleys on the Nehalem, Young's River and Lewis and Clark cannot be surpassed anywhere as dairying lands. There is here an abundance of green pasture the year round, a good market and a mild climate. The present output is not sufficient to meet even the demands of the local market. The principal cheese factories in the state are operated in and adjoining Clatsop County. Fifty dollars net profit per cow yearly can be obtained from dairying in this county. There are now several creameries in Astoria.

BERRIES AND VEGETABLES.

Small berries, such as strawberries, loganberries and blackberries, and all kinds of vegetables do well here and find a ready market. The city of Astoria, the logging camps and seacoast visitors in the summer create a constant demand for all such products. Hops are also raised profitably in this section.

EDUCATIONAL, RELIGIOUS AND FRATERNAL.

The public schools of Astoria are kept up to a very high standard. There are five grammar schools and one high school with sixty teachers. In addition to the public schools there are two private schools of marked excellence, the Academy of the Holy Names, and the Astoria Business College. The religious needs of the community are cared for by some sixteen different churches. All of the principal fraternal organizations have active lodges and some are housed in new modern buildings of their own.

Business in Astoria is in a healthy state and conditions are all favorable to an increase both in volume of business and population. With its advantageous location as one of the principal sea ports of the Pacific the opening of the Panama Canal cannot fail to add greatly to Astoria's commercial importance and wealth.

The business men of the city have long maintained a Chamber of Commerce and any information desired will be promptly furnished by addressing the secretary.

ACADEMY of the HOLY NAMES

BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL FOR GIRLS

CONDUCTED BY THE

Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary

ASTORIA, OREGON

The courses of instruction include. Primary, Grammar, Academic corresponding to four years Standard High School Work; Commercial; Music. Pupils are required to give much attention to the study of Instrumental and Theoretical Music. (two lessons and one-half hour theory weekly, and at least one hour daily practice) Sewing and Sight Singing are taught in each grade.

The Commercial Course is highly recommended; many of the Academy graduates are now holding responsible positions in the leading business houses of our own City as well as elsewhere.

While awaiting the erection of a Catholic School for Boys, boys attend the Academy until they finish the Grammar Grades.

The Institution offers every facility to aid the young in acquiring a Christian education, solid, useful and cultured. The Sisters hold moral training an essential element in education, and their life purpose is to secure this benefit for the young intrusted to their care.

POLK'S
Seaside Directory

The city of Seaside has an ideal climate the year round, unexcelled boating and bathing facilities, splendid hunting and fishing (both fresh and salt water) that combine to make it one of the most popular summer and winter resorts on the Pacific coast. Located on Clatsop Beach at the junction of the Necanicum and Wahanna rivers, 118 miles west of Portland as the terminus of the Spokane, Portland and Seattle railroad Seaside has at present the brightest future of any city or resort on the Lower Columbia river. Seaside has a standing population of 1500, with as high as 10,000 during the summer months. One of the finest municipal water plants is located at Seaside, the water of which flows from mountain springs at the head of the Necanicum. Although small in population Seaside presents a metropolitan air at all times and is bustling with business the year round. Several large concrete buildings have been erected the past year and plans are underway for the erection of more during the winter. Seaside has aside from the above improvements an electric lighting plant, best of schools and churches. The outlook for Seaside as a commercial center is promising as at present there are large timber tracts being cruised for logging and numerous logging crews are at work the year round in the vicinity. Seaside has a weekly newspaper, the Seaside Signal, a Co-Operative creamery, sash and door factory, saw and planing mill and there is room for several more as the timber is inexhaustable. The scenery in and around Seaside is unsurpassed anywhere and the climate is mild in winter and cool in summer. Best of telephone and telegraph service, modern hotels at all points on the beach, fine livery accommodations and several through passenger trains both ways to and from Portland makes Seaside the place to spend the summer months.
